Methodology

Sample composition and size

GWI USA is an online survey completed by U.S. internet users aged 16 and over. The annual sample size is 80,000, comprising four waves per year of 20,000 respondents each.

To ensure the samples are representative, GWI sets quotas and builds weighting frameworks on age, gender, ethnicity, racial identity, income, and local region. To set these quotas, we conduct thorough research across a range of sources including the US Census Bureau and Pew Research.

The age, gender and race/ethnicity quotas are interlocking, meaning they are broken down into sub-groups such as “Hispanic Males 16–24”. For the income quotas, we divide respondents into three groups: Under $50k, $50k–$100k, or $100k+. For region, we set quotas on: North East; Mid-West; South East; South West; West.

When asked about their racial identity, respondents can identify as any of the following: American Indian or Alaska Native; Asian; Black/African American; Mixed Race; Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander; White/Caucasian; Other. Separate from the racial identity question, we also ask about Hispanic identity. Any respondent is able to identify as Hispanic, regardless of their answer to the racial identity question. Within the Hispanic group, we monitor language preferences to ensure we achieve a good balance of those identifying as Spanish-dominant vs English-dominant. We interview a minimum of 2,500 Hispanic respondents each quarter.

Survey logistics

Respondents can participate via a mobile, laptop, PC, or tablet. All questions in GWI USA are fully mobile-first and mobile-compatible; we do not utilize grids or other legacy research formats.

Fieldwork for each quarter takes place in two parts. Respondents initially complete an online 40-minute survey; subsequently, we invite them to complete a 20-minute follow-up survey that focuses primarily on CPG and healthcare. Approximately 50% of respondents complete this follow-up survey, meaning that the CPG and healthcare sections have an annual sample size of c. 40,000 (c. 10,000 quarterly). Questions which appear in the recontact are marked with an asterisk (*) throughout this document and in the GWI platform. All questions are weighted to the same framework.

This approach allows us to include an appropriate privacy and consent notice on the recontact survey, where we inform respondents that they’ll be asked a number of health specific questions. As our surveys are divided into thematic “blocks” of questions that appear in a randomized order, by asking the healthcare questions in a separate survey we ensure that such sensitive questions don’t appear at the end of a 40 minute survey.

We employ routing to ensure that respondents don’t see any questions which aren’t relevant to them. For example, if someone tells us that they don’t use a specific social network, we won’t ask them any follow-up questions about it. Similarly, a set of Multicultural questions are shown only to Hispanic, Black/African American and Asian American respondents.

Respondents choose whether they want to complete the survey in Latin American Spanish or English. For more information, please visit our Help Center.

Demographics

Personal demographics

Age (generations)

Respondents are assigned to their generation based on their age when they completed the survey, with respondents classified as follows:

- Gen Z
- Gen Y (Millennials)
- Gen X
- Baby Boomers
- Silent Generation

Note: A small number of individuals qualify for the “Greatest Generation” (born 1920–1924). However, due to the low sample size of this group, they are excluded from the generational segmentation.

Age (groups/individual)

How old are you?

- 16–24
